

Art in the Mediterranean Garden

Scán A. O'Hara

Leucadendron salignum 'Winter Red'

family:	Proteacea	size:	3' x 4'
origin:	South Africa	bloom season:	Winter
hardiness:	20° F	deer tolerance:	high
watering:	monthly once established, drought tolerant

This UC Santa Cruz introduction has a compact growth habit and deep and vibrant red-wine coloration in the inflorescence and foliage during the colder winter months. While many leucadendron can grow quite large, this scaled-down cultivar is well-suited to pots, xeriscape borders in a smaller garden or even mass mid-ground plantings in a larger landscape. Its winter coat is truly stunning and the year-round deer and drought tolerance are well suited to the mediterranean garden.

Saturday, January 24, 1:00 pm

With nurseryman Jeff Rosendale - the art installations at his Watsonville Sierra Azul Nursery display gardens are a great source of ideas.

.....
Oakland-East Bay Garden Center

666 Bellevue Ave., Oakland.
.....

The public is welcome. $10.00 donation.
The speaker will have plants for sale.

sponsored by

The Mediterranean Garden Society Northern California Branch

www.MediterraneanGardenSociety.org

Jeff Rosendale